EmployAbilities is looking for a Employment Facilitator supporting the Future Works Slave Lake program. The successful candidate will provide trauma-informed employment support to individuals facing disabilities and barriers to employment, helping them build stability, develop goals, and move toward meaningful employment opportunities.

What You'll Do

- Conduct assessments and develop personalized action plans that help participants move toward goals.
- Connect participants with community resources and wraparound supports such as housing, transportation, health, and employment services.
- Provide ongoing coaching, encouragement, and case management while collaborating with facilitators, peer support staff, and community partners.

What You'll Bring

- Diploma or degree in human services, social work, psychology, career development, or a related field, or an equivalent combination of education and experience.
- Experience supporting individuals facing barriers to employment, housing, health, or other life challenges.
- Experience conducting assessments, developing action plans, or providing case management and client support services.

Needed Skills

- Trauma-informed and person-centred approach
- Strong assessment and problem-solving skills
- Excellent communication and relationship-building abilities
